

Folk Redlands Newsletter February 2009

Well, what a great start to the Folk Redlands year. A capacity audience turned up for Swoon and Jeremiah. The performances were excellent and the Vibe was sooooo good and I had the Folk Redlands buzz for some days afterwards.

A check of the diary page on the Folk Redlands Diary page will provide you with the latest talent that has been added to our events for this year.

We have decided that we will run up to one double header per month to allow for blow-ins that is to say, acts that come into the area at the last minute so that we can bring to Folk Redlands the best that is happening in Folk.

And so, on to business;

February in Brief

Sunday Feb 1st 2009 Pirate Brides

Sunday Feb 15th Senior Moments

March in Brief

Sunday March 1st 2009 "Little Secrets"

Sunday March 15th 2009 "Cloudstreet"

February in Detail

Sunday February 1st 2009 "Pirate Brides"

"With a repertoire spanning acoustic originals, bluegrass, contemporary folk and old -time, these seasoned performers combine great four-part vocals with tasty guitar, accordion, mandolin, clawhammer banjo, autoharp and double bass. Audiences love their foot-tapping, infectious and unpretentious approach, leaving the gig well satisfied and humming the songs as they stroll back into the real world." (www.piratebrides.com)

Sunday February 15th 2009 "Senior Moments"

Several of Brisbane's legendary singer/songwriters have got together to bring you traditional and contemporary folk songs. They are Momentum Mary B, Momentous Annie Infante, Wait a Moment Mark Davidson and Alto Moment Robin Etter-Cleave. Momentous Annie has a Bad Attitude. Momentum Mary pets with her pet - yes right there on stage! They raunch and rock and are fearless in their choice of material. They will be joined momentarily by Blues Harp Moments Chris Euston (on loan from Stockade) - who may even decide it is a good Accordion Moment!

Heads-up for the Colum Sands House Concert

Friday April 3rd

As mentioned in an earlier Newsletter Folk Redlands has organized a house concert featuring Colum Sands. This is a real coup for the club and we are very excited about this development.

More on the venue later, suffice it to say that the location will have easy access from both Brisbane, Redlands City, Logan City and the Gold Coast.

If you haven't yet heard about Colum check this link Colum Sands home page

We'll soon be issuing more information including ticket details
